GUIDELINES ON THE CALL FOR PAPERS

In fulfillment of one of the objectives of this year's National Literacy Conference (NLC) which is to gather policy recommendations that may influence, shape, or impact approaches, strategies, and mechanisms at the national and local level in building a culture of literacy in the country, the LCC hereby issues the guidelines on the Call for Papers.

1. Target Participants. Scholars, academicians, teachers, professionals, and other researchers are invited to submit their abstracts and original research articles to the LCC Secretariat who, if selected and qualified, will present their paper at the 2023 National Literacy Conference which will be held in Ecotech Center, Cebu City, and will be live-streamed through the Facebook pages of DepEd Philippines and Literacy Coordinating Council.

2. Research Topics. The papers must focus on the following topics:

- Intercultural and Inclusive Education. This topic aims to explore the impact of culturally responsive teaching strategies on academic achievement and diverse student populations, investigate the effectiveness of inclusive educational policies in promoting equal opportunities and reducing achievement gaps and analyze the role of intercultural competence development in fostering understanding and empathy in educational settings.
- Community-based Literacy Development. This topic aims to assess the effectiveness of community-led literacy programs in enhancing reading and writing skills among marginalized populations, investigate the role of parental involvement in community-based literacy initiatives and its impact on children's literacy outcomes, and examine the partnership between schools, libraries, and local organizations in promoting community-based literacy development.
- Literacy Teaching Pedagogies. This topic aims to investigate the impact of technology integration in literacy instruction on student engagement and learning outcomes, explore the effectiveness of differentiated instruction in meeting the diverse literacy needs of students and examine the influence of teacher professional development programs on instructional practices and student literacy achievement.
- Local Literacy Governance. This topic aims to analyze the role of local government policies in promoting literacy initiatives and improving literacy rates within a community, investigate the collaboration and coordination among stakeholders in developing comprehensive literacy plans at the local level, assess the impact of community-based literacy assessments and interventions on literacy governance and outcomes, and raise awareness on the importance of resource mobilization and management, among many others.
- Stakeholder Engagement in Literacy. This topic aims to examine the role and contribution of community organizations, associations, and businesses in supporting literacy initiatives and fostering a culture of reading, investigate the effective strategies for engaging families in supporting literacy development at home and in the community and analyze the impact of volunteer tutoring programs and other literacy initiatives on student literacy outcomes and community engagement.

3. Submission of Entries and Documentary Requirements. Researchers may submit their abstracts to the LCC Secretariat through the link: https://bit.ly/2023NLC_CallForResearch. The following requirements must be observed in their submission:

- Abstracts must be between 200 to 300 words with not more than six (6) keywords. It must contain the following: problem, participants, research design, methods, major conclusions, and policy recommendations.
- A copy of the research article must also be provided for easy reference of the LCC Research Evaluation Committee. The article must observe the Introduction, Methods, Results, and Discussion (IMRD) Format with a maximum of 5000 words following the APA 7th Edition style in its references and citations section.
- Entries must be typewritten in Times New Roman, font size 12 and 1.5 spacing, the margin must be one inch on all sides, and must be submitted in Word document format. References must follow the APA 7th Edition style.
